

James Crawford, MD, PhD

AAPath Senior Fellow Since 2024

Email: jcrawford1@northwell.edu

EDUCATION

Undergraduate Degree: Dartmouth College, BA, Chemistry-Biology (1972-1975). Graduate/Professional Degree: Duke University School of Medicine, MD, PhD (Physiology) (1976-1982). Postgraduate Education: Resident in Pathology, Duke University Medical Center (1982-1983); Resident in Pathology, Brigham and Women's Hospital (1983-1984) and Gastrointestinal Pathology Fellow (1985-1987); Fellow in Hepatic Pathology, Royal Free Hospital (1989). Board Certification: Anatomic Pathology (1987) and Clinical Informatics (2014), American Board of Pathology.

SERVICE

Service as Pathology Chair: University of Florida College of Medicine (1999-2008); Northwell Health (2009-2023). Leadership Roles Before, During, and After Service as Chair: (selected) Association of American Medical Colleges (AAMC): Chair, Council of Academic Societies (2010-2011), Member, AAMC Board of Directors (2009-2011); Association for Academic Pathology (AAPath), formerly Association of Pathology Chairs (APC): President (2006-2008); Founding Editor-in-Chief, Academic Pathology (2014-Present); Editor-in-Chief, Laboratory Investigation (2004-2008); Project Santa Fe Foundation (PSFF): Chair, Board of Directors (2017-Present).

AREAS OF PROFESSIONAL INTEREST

Research: Liver Pathology and Pathobiology; Biospecimen Science; Health Services Research (Real World Data studies, including but not limited to the Clinical Lab 2.0 movement). Clinical: Liver and Gastrointestinal Pathology. Educational: Liver and Gastrointestinal Pathology. Mentoring: Mentorship of faculty and trainees in leadership. Current Interests: Clinical (Liver Pathology), Research (as above), national leadership (especially Project Santa Fe Foundation).

ACHIEVEMENTS

Honors and Awards: Gold Medal Award, International Academy of Pathology (2006), F.K. Mostofi Distinguished Service Award, United States and Canadian Academy of Pathology (2010), College of American Pathologists President's Honors Award (2010), Association of Pathology Chairs Distinguished Service Award (2021), COLA Perry A. Lambird Excellence in Medicine Award (2025). Professional Achievements of Which You are Most Proud: Leadership of two academic departments of pathology and laboratory medicine over 24.5 years; Mentoring and career development of trainees, faculty and administrative leaders over my full career; Being an active member of the national and international community of academic pathology; Contributing knowledge in the fields of hepatic anatomy, pathology, and physiology, and in the field of health services research; Playing a role in the nation's response to the COVID-19 pandemic; Playing a continuing role in our nation's preparedness for health care needs.

OUTSIDE INTERESTS

Hobbies: Walking and hiking (with Aleta); Competitive Rowing; Yard Work and Gardening; Cross-Country Skiing; Bagpipes. Volunteer Activities: Church Choir; Church Governance. Other: Married to Aleta (52 years and counting); 2 children and 3 grandchildren.